College to build new upperclass residence hall

The College has proposed building a two-story, 38,420 square-foot apartment-style residence on Roger Hull Place and Park Place that will give students another residential housing option. The total project cost is estimated at $9 million and will be paid through bonds issued by the College. Construction is expected to begin this fall and be completed in time for the 2015-16 academic year.

Come home to Union this autumn

We are excited to welcome back all families, alumni and guests for Homecoming 2014, Oct. 24-26. There are many great events for everyone, from hay rides and tours of historic Union to football and hockey, the tailgate picnic and harvest dinner. So come enjoy this festive fall weekend! An up-to-date schedule is available here, as is information about how to register and places to stay.

Power play: New lights for Messa Rink

Messa Rink at Achilles Center is now illuminated by an innovative LED lighting system. The new lights are expected to reduce the rink’s energy usage by 352,680 kilowatt hours annually, shaving $35,000 off the energy bill, according to Marc Donovan, assistant director of Facilities.

Union joins effort for college accessibility
President Stephen C. Ainlay joined college leaders from across the country in July at the College for Every Student (CFES) Center in Essex, N.Y., to develop strategies to help 1 million low-income students attain college degrees by 2025. Union is a partner with CFES, a nonprofit organization committed "to raising the academic aspirations and performance of underserved youth so that they can prepare for, gain access to, and succeed in college."

Tee off for Union football
Join us for the Dick Roberts Golf Outing, the largest annual gathering for alumni, family and friends of Union College Football. This year's tournament will be held the day before the Union-Springfield game, at the Mohawk Golf Club Oct. 3, 2014. We hope to see you there and at the game! Contact Gary Reynolds for more information at reynoldg@union.edu or call (518) 322-6184.

Need bright employees? Look to Union students
The Becker Career Center invites you to participate in its free Fall 2014 Recruiting Programs -- a wonderful way to access Union students for full-time jobs/internships, or participate in on-campus recruiting. On-campus recruiting is a free, effective way to build brand recognition with students. Union also belongs to several recruiting consortia, through which it holds interviewing days in Boston and New York City, and special events through the Engineering Recruiting Consortia. These are cost-effective ways to hire interns and entry-level talent, while minimizing travel expenses. For more information, contact Rochelle Caruso (carusor@union.edu).
Summer a time for student research at Union

Nearly 135 students across a multitude of disciplines conducted research projects this summer. For nearly 30 summers, Union has fostered close working relationships between thousands of students and faculty as part of its longstanding commitment to undergraduate research.
