Notable Alumni in Nonprofit Management

Amanda Aronoff ’91, Executive Director of Women’s Way and former Vice President of Development & Public Relations for Project H.O.M.E. Recognized by Fundraising Success Magazine as one of the Top Fundraisers Under 40.

David Burg ’92, Principal and Co-Founder of the Partnership for Income Restricted Housing Leadership (PIRHL), a Cleveland-based owner, developer and general contractor of affordable housing. Expert in affordable housing, community, economic and corporate development.

Philip DiSorbo ’71, co-founder of the Foundation for Hospice in Sub-Saharan Africa (FHSSA) and the organization’s first Executive Director; responsible for the FHSSA’s creation of the Diana Legacy Fund. First employee of Hospice of Schenectady (founded at Union College in 1980) and executive director of an expanded hospice network known as Community Hospice. Recipient of the “Heart of Hospice” award from the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization.

Bill Fellows ’76, involved in UNICEF for more than 30 years and responsible for coordinating all humanitarian water and sanitations responses for UNICEF throughout the world. Has done relief work in Haiti, Nigeria, Sierra Leone, Iraq, Sudan and many other locations in need. Former member of the Peace Corps.

Jennifer Lawless ’97, Associate Professor of Government at American University and Director of the Women & Politics Institute; nationally recognized expert on women’s involvement in politics and co-author of the book It Still Takes a Candidate: Why Women Don’t Run for Office.

Edward Skloot ’63, retired Executive Director of the Surdna Foundation, which provides grant funding for projects related to the environment, neighborhood revitalization, youth organizing, arts and nonprofit sector issues. Founder and former director of New Ventures, a consulting firm that created the field of social venturing and nonprofit entrepreneurship.

Jennifer Smith Turner ’74, CEO, Girl Scouts of Connecticut; serves more than 55,000 girls and 20,000 adult volunteers in the state. Prior president/CEO of Smith & Associates LLC, a management consulting company. Former Deputy Commissioner for the State of Connecticut’s Department of Economic and Community Development; published poet.

Lydia Walker ’04, Country Director (Guatemala) for Community Enterprise Solutions, a social impact innovation incubator with the goal of empowering business and educational entrepreneurs to make a difference in their communities. Former agro-forestry Peace Corps volunteer in Guatemala.